- May, 2010 (TBA & held sometime during the first week of May)

The New Jersey Coalition for Financial Education (NJCFE) strives to improve the personal financial literacy of New Jersey's citizens by promoting the teaching of personal finance to people of all ages. The Coalition believes that all citizens of New Jersey must have the financial literacy necessary to make informed financial decisions. The Coalition meets quarterly in a Central New Jersey location and consists of about 100 representatives of government agencies, schools, businesses, and non-profit organizations that provide financial education and related services. The Coalition is a 501 (c)(3) tax-exempt organization operated by an elected board of directors and conducts an annual audit of its finances. From 2002 through 2008, the NJ Coalition for Financial Education has received $224,100 in external grant funding.
