

Save The Date

 Sponsored by the Pennsylvania
Office of Financial Education

Who should attend:

- Educators from community and faith-based organizations
- Members of business associations and chambers of commerce
- Social workers and case managers
- Business owners and human resource professionals
- Financial education providers

NEW!

Financial Education Boot Camp
May 10th pre-conference training for financial educators

Registration information will be available in early March at www.moneysbestfriend.com.

pennsylvania
OFFICE OF FINANCIAL EDUCATION

4th Annual Common Wealth Symposium

Improving Financial Education in Pennsylvania's Communities and Workplaces

May 11-12, 2010

Optional Pre-Conference Workshop on May 10, 2010
Holiday Inn Harrisburg/Hershey, Grantville, PA

Community-Based Topics

- Elements of effective financial education programs
- Educator training and certification programs
- Model PA financial education programs
- Managing volunteers
- Funding financial education initiatives
- Program evaluation

Workplace Topics

- Study results from the Kansas City Fed employee financial education pilot
- Choosing employee programs and providers that are right for your business
- How to spread the word about financial education

Special Session: Poverty Simulation – gain insight into the struggles of living in poverty.

WANTED! Your Ideas:

Is there a session you would like to see added to this year's agenda? Tell us what you think.

Costs:

$50 per person*
includes meals and conference materials

*Additional $25 per person for May 10th pre-conference "Financial Education Boot Camp"

The Holiday Inn Harrisburg/Hershey is offering a special conference room rate for symposium attendees. More information to follow.

Questions:

Please contact the Office of Financial Education at 717-783-2498 or hollychase@state.pa.us.