Thank you for your intended participation at the NJCFE Annual Symposium on December 6 at the NJCU School of Business. Please review the important information below about event logistics visit njcfe.org for the preliminary event agenda. As the event is almost sold out, if you do not intend to participate, please let us know immediately so that we can make your ticket available to our waiting list.

Location - Please note that the School of Business is NOT a part of the main New Jersey City University Campus. Parking is available only through public lots. The PATH Exchange Place Station is less than a five minute walk from the School of Business and the most advisable way to commute.

Arrival and Check-In – We encourage all of our guests to participate in any and all parts of the Symposium. Due to the generosity of our sponsors breakfast and lunch will be provided to all of our participants, speakers and guests.

The event schedule is very tight so please be sure to arrive early and plan to move throughout the day from session to session. When you enter the NJCU School of Business on the ground level, please go up the steps to the second floor where we are holding the symposium in the Skyline Room with breakout sessions on the same floor. You will find the registration table and vendors outside of the Skyline Room.

NJCFE has engaged the services of StrixMedia, a professional production firm, to document the event. Participants may choose to volunteer to provide a testimonial on the impact of financial literacy and/or the impact of the NJCFE.

IMPORTANT- This event is brought to you at little or no cost due to the very generous support of our sponsors at Affinity Federal Credit Union and the NJ Credit Union Foundation.
